

BTEC Professional Award (Level 4) in Emergency Planning Management

The BTEC in Emergency Planning Management is a nationally recognised qualification that demonstrates you have achieved a certain level of skill and competence as a professional emergency planner. BTECs offer a realistic and accessible option if you want your performance and skills recognised.

The BTEC Professional Award in Emergency Planning Management (Level 4) covers the knowledge, understanding and skills needed by the professional emergency planner.

What will I gain?

Once you have completed this qualification you will:

1. Know the requirements of emergency planning
2. Understand the developments of emergency planning
3. Be able to manage emergency planning

Who is it for?

This qualification is aimed at people with specific roles and responsibilities for managing and planning for events or situations which threaten serious damage to human welfare, the environment or UK security. There are no formal entry requirements.

How is it taught?

The qualification has 40 guided learning hours with an element of distance learning study. Learners will attend a three day taught programme within the 40 guided learning hours.

How is it assessed?

This qualification is about learners gaining knowledge, understanding and skills required for planning for emergencies. They will understand the requirements of planning, including relevant forums, local area and information needs and the emergency planning cycle. They will apply the planning process, recognising emergency plans, risk assessments and their impact. Learners will also ensure adherence to collaborative working requirements, appropriate risk planning and satisfaction of awareness and delivery priorities. Consequently, assessment is through successful completion of two practical assignments and an evidence portfolio. This course is endorsed by the Emergency Planning Society.
